

Attention ALL Adult Day Health Care (ADHC) Providers

Transition from Monthly Billing Cycle

Due to requests from providers, the billing cycle for ADHC is changing from the monthly LTC billing cycle to weekly billing.

- The last monthly cycle ADHCs will bill for are dates of service for the month of August 2015. Prior to going straight to a weekly billing cycle, there will be a transition period during September 2015. Please note the following: During this transition time ADHC providers may not begin to submit claims weekly until after the August monthly checkwrite of Thursday, September 10, 2015.
- With this transition to weekly billing, ADHC claims will begin being included in the DHH pre-payment review process. As with all other claims paid weekly, ADHC claims will pend with edit 241 (claims held for pre-payment review) for an additional week before being released for payment. This means providers that submit claims by 12 noon Thursday, September 17, 2015 will not receive reimbursement for those claims until the RA of September 29, 2015.

After the checkwrite of September 29, 2015, then ADHCs will be on the “regular” weekly checkwrite. At that time, ADHC providers should expect to see all approved claims pend for one additional week with the 241 pend edit.

Weekly checkwrites are on Tuesdays. Providers must ensure that they submit claims to Molina by Thursdays at noon in order for the claims to process and appear on the RA the following Tuesday. Because ADHC services are post authorized, ADHC providers should send information files to SRI at least two days prior to submitting claims to Molina.
